Comments: My father Alan Craig Felger was a first Lt. in the 7th Div. He was trapped in a bunker on Pork Chop Hill in March 1953 with 10 others and called in artillery fire on his own position. He was one of the lucky ones. He and the others were rescued and dug out of the bunker. He married Joan Schwartzenburg and had six children. He died in 1985 at age 55 of heart failure. He never talked about his war experiences. We learned about them when the obit reporter told us of the war reports that came in from the wire services. He took his memories of that experience to the grave with him. I wonder what he would think about this web site dedicated to education about the Korean War and if alive if he would be willing to share his experience. I'm amazed by the desire of veterans to reconnect and share their own stories which I plan to share with my own children, who never got to meet their grandfather.

Joined the Navy in 48. In 1950 joined the Military Sea Transport Service Atlantic, a newly formed organization.
Went aboard the USNS Gen. Langfitt TAP-151 and left the Brooklyn NY army base in May of 1951 bound for Korea making stops along the way to embark troops from five countries Holland, Belgium, Greece, Turkey and Thailand.
Arriving in Pusan 6-29-51 we discharged all but the Turkish troops which were bound for Inchon. Making two shuttle trips back and forth from Inchon to Yokohama Japan with US troops going and coming for R&R. We finally sailed back the same route with Turkish and Greek troops heading home.
We had a total of 2744 troops on board going over and it was quite an experience with five different nationalities on board.

Comments: The Family of Joseph Mack Harper would like some help from the men who served with the Communications Platoon, Headquarters Company, 3rd Battalion, 31st Infantry Regiment who were with the unit when they were stationed in Japan before going to Korea. Joe Harper had about 250 photos from the time he spent in Japan and the identity of most of the men is unknown. There is a boot camp photo of 22 men pictured with their names signed on the front. Many of these men were KIA or MIA in Korea. And there are many other photos of other men not in the main photo.

Joseph Mack Harper died at Chosin and his remains were never recovered. The Harper family has no photos or letters from Joe after he went to Korea. It is their desire to first identify the men in these pictures and then to share with others.

In Joe's Niece's own words.... I would be happy to forward any of the pix (group or otherwise) to anyone who may use it for ID-ing or helping in any way... I am also willing to share the pix to other families, which was an original hope of our family's, sharing the wonderful things we found and sharing information to learn about his life... we have no photos after he left Japan, so Korea pix would be precious to us... But no, no one in other families has contacted me...

If you are a Veteran from this Unit, please contact Joyce at celestialprincess@cox.net so we can find out the names of these Heroes.

We remember that Freedom has a cost.

I met some great people, both those we were transporting (mostly Army) and those with whom I served in the military department. It was great to see the photo of the O'Hara on the site. Thanks for bringing forth some vivid memories!

After all these years, it turns out not to be a puncture, but a bullet wound from N.K. troops, during the training exercise.
If you don't remember me, perhaps you'll remember some of the leaders names. Capt. Gorley-2nd Lt.Adgar-1st. Sgt.McAdams. If any of these names ring a bell, please contact me.
I've searched nearly all the listings and haven't found anyone from that time period.

Comments: One of the books offered in the General Store of this website was authored by a cyber-friend of mine, Robert Campbell. Bob and I never met in person. I found his e-mail address after reading his novel, IN THE SHADOW OF GLORY, and wrote him a note complimenting him on his book. He was a Marine in the 1st Marine Division and I was in the Army but assigned to the 1st Marine Division's area of operation. I manned a listening bunker of the Army Security Agency in the same sector of the front line that Bob had spent his combat time.

Bob encouraged me to write about my experiences in the war that linked us, the Korean War. The result was my novel, STAY SAFE, BUDDY that is also in the General Store of this website. Sadly, Bob died unexpectedly before getting to read my novel.

Robert Campbell's memoirs are also on this site. He e-mailed me a copy of his memoirs a few months before he died. However, I just read them again and found something that I had overlooked until now. It is one of those "well I'll be @#%$!" incidents.

I spent my last year in the Army assigned to the National Security Agency in Washington, DC. Campbell spent his last five months in the Marines assigned to the Naval Security Station in Washington, DC. The NSA was only a couple of years old and was located; you guessed it, inside the compound of the Naval Security Station in NW Washington, DC. I was assigned there from June '53 through May '54 and Campbell was there from March '54 to September '54. Although we never met Robert Campbell and I probably had a nodding acquaintance there because the entire compound had less than a thousand persons.

It's a small world sometimes.

Comments: Looking for information for my husband's father, Air Force Captain John Joseph Fitzgerald. Michael has no information on his father other than he served in WWII and was recalled to the Korean War. Captain Fitzgerald was killed (we think) in 1951. We found very little info on the American Battle Monuments Commission website and have requested further info from Nat'l. Personnel Center, hoping his records were not destroyed in the fire.

The info. on the ABMC site said he was with the 2nd Air Postal Squadron but I can only find info for the 1st. Any and all help will be greatly appreciated if anyone knows where I can find further info. or if anyone knew Captain Fitzgerald. At the time of his death, he was married to Lorraine and had two sons, John J. Jr. and Michael. We do not know where he served out of, his BD, place of birth, or any other pertinent info.

THANK YOU SO VERY MUCH FOR ANY HELP!

A wooden plow, pulled by an ox in 1950, was their modern technology. Today their industrial capacity competes with major manufacturing nations of the world while North Koreans, the industrial part of Korea before Korea War, would freeze and starve, except for free world generosity. Is there a need for more proof of the worldwide failure of communism?

Fifty-three years ago on the battlefields of North Korea, Lt. Randy Holland from

Boy, have I got questions to ask this "ol Texan" in the hereafter. Once again THANK

The patrol was made up with men from Fox Co. or the 17th Inf Reg. 7th Inf Div. that had been assigned the honorable task of recovering four dead GI's from King Co that had been KIA several days prior. I have already made contact with Sgt Norby that was a medic assigned to handling the recovered bodies as well as the radio operator Richard Bosecker, that happened to be part of the patrol. Even with the heavy losses we sustained in the Oct 8th Iron Triangle Battles, that still leaves quite a few still out there floating around that could never forget the incident. Bill Hall, from the Philly, Pa. that was seriously wounded and spent time with me at Tokyo Army Hosp. and then at Valley Forge Army Host. are you still kicking. James Pintar from Legionair or Legion Pa. are you still out there. Get in touch via E-mail or call 1-800-739-7180 Somewhere along the line, I probably promised you a beer. It's past time for payback. We were a great bunch of double clutchers and had a great crew of soldiers from all over the USA and various different ages. Our officers from Captain Clarence L. Walk and down were top notch and treated us kindly. There was Lt. Frost, Lt. Stein, CWO Goggins and Lt. Sam Price. There was Tennessee in charge of our motor pool and many others that drove trucks with supplies that we picked up from the LST'S that landed in Sokchori and we brought them up to the front lines. I am especially looking to find Sid Stein who was with me during my two year enlistment and the last I knew he was in the Miami Area a long time ago. Then there were the guys from my basic training outfit The 420th Engineer Dump Truck Company at Ft. Bragg, N.C. I was there with them from February 1951 until September 1951 when I got my orders for Korea. The days I spent in both outfits will never be forgotten and many nights I think about all these people that I learned what life was all about because when I enlisted I was 5 days out of high school and the tender age of 18 1/2. Life has been good to me . I have been married to my lovely wife Irene 47 years, 2 children and 2 grand daughters. I am retired and living in Kings Point/Tamarac in South Florida. Before he died, I can remember him telling me when an officer came up to him and told him he was on temporary leave and was going back to the states. He didn't know why. When he got back, He discovered his first wife had died of Spinal Meningitis. After he buried her, he had to go back to Korea leaving behind a 1 year old daughter.

My father never voluntarily said anything about his experiences in Korea. Only if he was asked then he would say something. I notice that in most service personnel who were involved in a war where they saw death and destruction. It affected their lives.

Comments: I was a Navy Hospital Corpsman, serving with the 1st Marine Div. Was attached to 1st Arm Amphib Bn. We were used as light artillery. We were as far north on the Kimpo Penn. as you could go without getting wet. I was in Korea in 2003 for the 50th Anniversary. I asked around about going up to the old location. No one seemed to know where I was talking about. I tried looking it up on the net, with no luck. Maybe someone out there can help.

Comments: Just returned from Washington D.C., where I viewed all the war memorials. The Korean War Memorial was the best. What a tribute. Furthermore, as a military historian and author, I greatly appreciate the immense amount of work and passion that is evident in your website. Outstanding job and keep up the great work. The brave men and women who fought in that terrible "war" should not be forgotten, and efforts like yours insure that it won't happen. Bravo!

Comments: I enlisted in the Army in Aug. 1954 and got separated in Aug. 1957. I was sent to Korea in Sept. 1955. There I joined the 11th combat Engineers at Munsan-Ni South Korea just a short distance from Panmunjom and the DMZ. I spent 16 months in Korea and rotated in Dec. 1956. Its is an experience that I will never forget. I enjoy your webpage a lot and appreciate all the hard work that it requires. Keep up the good work. I will visit periodically. Jim Z. Mowery
